Fall of Nanking thought imminent—

[redacted] has been informed by a usually reliable source that the feeling is prevalent in the Nationalist High Command that Nanking can hold out no longer than ten days to two weeks after Government forces in the Hsuehou sector have been annihilated. [redacted] reports that all civil and military aircraft available are to be used in an effort to supply the encircled Nationalist units. [redacted] adds that Chiang Kai-shek is pleading with General Chennault to re-form the American Volunteer Group by any means possible.
